RE: Resignation as Editor of The Wastewatcher Magazine

Jerry,

It is with deep frustration that I must offer my resignation as editor for The Wastewatcher magazine. My frustration comes from changes in my personal and profession life that no longer allow me the time to do what I have truly enjoyed doing for the last 21/2 years. That is, to put together the magazine and try to make it an informative source for our MWOA members.

I appreciate the opportunities that being editor of The Wastewatcher have brought to me as well as working closely with such a fine organization as the MWOA. The Boards of Directors and officers that I have worked with are all top notch professionals and should be commended for their spirit of generosity and commitment.

In the interim between this resignation and the appointment of a new editor, I offer my assistance in any way that I can to make the transition as smooth a possible. In the future, I do hope to retain contact with the magazine in any part time capacity that I may be able to offer.

Thank you again for a great term as Editor and please accept this resignation as merely a step down in the organization.

Sincerely,
